No. G. 4058-109—G. M. 55-12-109, dated Bangalore, 25*th January* 1913.

ORDER.—In supersession of the rules contained in paragraph 4 and subsequent paragraphs, of Government Order No. G. 488-535—G. M. 36-11-7, dated the 21st July 1911, regarding the constitution and the functions of the Mysore Economic Conference, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja are pleased to issue the following revised rules:—

1. The following officers and gentlemen will constitute the Conference:—

President.—The Dewan of Mysore.

Vice-Presidents.—The Members of Council.

Members.—

(1) Selected Heads of Departments (to be ex-officio members).
(2) Members of the Legislative Council.
(3) Selected retired officers of Government.
(4) Deputy Commissioners (to be ex-officio members).
(5) Leading private gentlemen, not less than six or more than nine in number, to be selected from among public-spirited citizens, prominent agriculturists, merchants, etc.

The selection of members under (1), (3) and (5) will be made by the Government and the names of the members selected will be published in the official Gazette. Persons thus nominated will be members of the Conference for a period of three years from the date of nomination, and at the expiry of such period, will be eligible to be again nominated. Members of the Legislative Council will be members of the Conference as long as they continue to be on the Legislative Council.

2. The Conference will meet ordinarily in June every year, but for the consideration of any important questions, meetings may be convened at other times of the year by a special order of His Highness the Maharaja. The time and place of the meetings of the Conference will be notified to the members beforehand.

The work of the Conference will be carried on during the rest of the year by three Central Committees, namely, one for Agriculture, one for Education and one for Industries and Commerce.

3. A list of subjects which may be dealt with by the Conference is appended to this order. Any additions or alterations which may suggest themselves, may also be made to this list from time to time by the Conference, or with the approval of the President, by the Central Committees concerned. It should be clearly understood that the Conference shall not discuss any questions which concern the prerogatives of His Highness the Maharaja, the constitution of the State, its relations with the Government of India or the policy of the Supreme Government.

4. The Deputy Commissioners of Districts should consult the leading men of their districts in regard to the subjects suggested for discussion and come to the Conference posted with the views of such men, so that they may be able to represent public opinion as well as their own.

5. For the present, the proceedings of the Conference will not be open to the public and the discussion should be treated as confidential. But such resolutions and other proceedings of the Conference and of its Committees as may be selected by the President in consultation with the Chairmen of the Committees, may be published from time to time.

Such recommendations as have the support of the majority of the Conference may be submitted to Government in the form of resolutions. Government may take such action as they may deem fit on these resolutions.

6. From the list of the subjects referred to above or as may be hereafter revised, the Conference will select questions which may be usefully taken up for study and discussion by the Central Committees. These Committees may each be composed of five members of the Conference and such other gentlemen, as may be selected by the President of the Conference, not exceeding six for each Committee, whether officials or non-officials, whether members of the Conference or not. Persons who are appointed as members of the Committees may take part in the deliberations of the Conference and vote therein and may be treated as members of the Conference for the time being.

7. A Committee for each district composed of officials, members of the Representative Assembly and non-officials, not exceeding 20 in number, may also be appointed by the President, in consultation with the Chairmen of the Central Committees, and the Deputy Commissioner of the District will be the President of the Committee. District Committees will take up such business as may be assigned to them by the Central Committees and such other business connected with other subjects, coming within the purview of the Conference, as they may wish to investigate. They may incur only such expenditure and on such subjects as may be assigned to them by the Central Committees.

8. Subject to confirmation by the President and the Chairman of the Committee concerned, the Central Committees and the District Committees are authorised to appoint "Associates" up to the number of 50 for each, for one year at a time, to form a connecting link between the Committee and the individuals or agencies engaged in similar work.

9. Copies of all publications and proceedings of each of the Central Committees (except such as may be considered confidential by the Chairman concerned) will be supplied to all the members of the Conference and the District Committees and to the Associates. Questions and subjects for local investigation may be referred to Associates who may also send up reports and suggestions for consideration to District and Central Committees.

10. The appointments of Secretary to the Conference and Secretaries to the Central Committees will be made by Government.

11. The Central Committees should meet once a month and oftener, if necessary. The District Committees also should ordinarily meet once a month.

On every question considered by the Committees, correct information should first be collected in regard to its importance to the Province and a note or monograph prepared embodying the same. The next step will be to compare conditions in Mysore with those in other countries or localities. The Committees may issue their monographs to the public and the press in order to stimulate public discussion. They may consult expert opinion both within and outside the State. It will be their duty to collect information of value from every quarter and make it available both to the Government and the public in an easily assimilable form. Ordinarily the Committees will report their opinions and recommendations to the Conference once a year, before the end of April, so as to be available for the next session.

The Committees may also initiate experiments, prepare practical schemes for execution by the department concerned, recommend help to industries and agricultural improvements and suggest to Government such other steps as may be considered desirable to improve the economic condition of the country.

12. The Conference may also suggest any modifications that may be considered necessary in the rules to ensure the smooth working of the scheme and increase its usefulness, and also frame such subsidiary rules as may be required.

ORDER.—In supersession of the existing orders on the subject, the following revised rules are prescribed for the grant of reward for the destruction of wild animals in the State.

1. The rate of reward that may be granted for killing various kinds of wild animals are as follows :—

	Rs.
Tigers	... 35 each.
Panthers (cheetas)	... 20 ,,
Wild dogs	... 10 ,,
Wolves	... 10 ,,
Hyænas	... 5 ,,
Jungle cats	... 2 ,,

The above rates are maximum rates and Deputy Commissioners of Districts may exercise their discretion in fixing the amount of reward in each case.

2. Applicants for reward should produce the untanned skin, teeth and claws of the animal killed, along with their applications to the Amildar of the Taluk or to the Deputy Commissioners. Such applications should be supported by a certificate from the patel, or one or more respectable gentlemen of the village stating the place where and the date on which the animal was killed.

3. If the application is made before the Amildar, he should, unless otherwise instructed by the Deputy Commissioner by a general or special order, after satisfying himself that the skin is a fresh one, immediately forward it with the teeth and claws of the animal to the District Treasury with a short report to the Deputy Commissioner stating by whom, when and where the animal was killed. The Deputy Commissioner will, after personal inspection of the skin, if necessary, sanction a reward not exceeding the amount stated in para 1 supra and have the skin, etc., sent for deposit to the treasury where the skin will at once be punched. If the person claiming the reward desires to keep the skin, etc., as a trophy, the skin need not be punched, but may be returned to the applicant on his furnishing a muchalika to the effect that he will be careful so to dispose of the skin that it shall not again be presented for payment of reward. In such cases, a sum of Rs. 6, Rs. 2 or rupee one respectively, will be deducted from the reward according as the animal killed is a tiger, a cheetah or any other animal.

4. No reward will ordinarily be paid unless the claim is made and the skin, teeth and claws are presented within four months after the animal is killed. Deputy Commissioners may however sanction payment of rewards in special cases where satisfactory reasons are adduced for a delay of more than four months in the presentation of the claim.

5. Rewards for killing wild animals will be paid either in the District or Taluk Treasury as may be ordered by the Deputy Commissioner on receipts from the parties countersigned by the Deputy Commissioner. They should also bear a certificate signed by the officer sanctioning the reward, viz., the Deputy Commissioner, that he has personally examined the skin of the animals or has satisfied himself from personal inquiry, of the genuineness of the claim. If the party desires payment at a Taluk Treasury, the Deputy Commissioner will arrange for it by means of a taluk cheque.

6. Skins, etc., received at the treasuries for the payment of reward and not required by Government should after being punched, be sold by public auction, due intimation of the same being given to probable bidders.
